Investments in 529 college savings plans are neither FDIC insured nor guaranteed and may lose some value. Some states offer favorable tax treatment to their residents only if they invest in the state's own plan. Investors should consider before investing whether their or their designated beneficiary's home state offers any state tax or other benefits that are only available for investment in such state's qualified tuition program, such as financial aid, scholarship funds, and protection from creditors. Any state-based benefit offered with respect to a particular 529 College Savings Plan should be one of the many appropriately weighted factors considered in making an investment decision. You should consult with your tax or other advisor to learn more about how state based benefits (including any limitations) would apply to their specific circumstances. In addition, some states may offer an income tax deduction to any qualified tuition programs. These securities are neither FDIC insured nor guaranteed and may lose value.

Before investing in a plan, investors should carefully consider the investment objectives, risks, charges and expenses associated with municipal fund securities. Plan disclosure documents contain this and other information about a plan, and may be obtained by asking your financial advisor, visiting oppenheimerfunds.com or calling 1 800 CALL OPP (225 5677). Investors should read these documents carefully before investing.
